To get IT spending totals, Input analysts compared fiscal 2005 Federal Procurement Data System data with a list of 65 technology-related product codes. Then they used the Central Contractor Registration's Dynamic Small Business Search to identify companies that had the General Services Administration's 8(a) classification for small and disadvantaged businesses as of the end of fiscal 2005. The list ranks 8(a) companies based on fiscal 2005 IT dollars, not total dollars for fiscal 2005.
