①

②

③

▲ Warner Robins Air Logistics Center deployed an RFID system for tracking gyroscopes that go into aircraft. The platform was built by RF Code and includes hundreds of active RFID tags (1), which communicate data to 19 Mantis readers throughout the facility (2). From there, information goes through RF Code's Tavis Data Management software (3), which integrates with the DOD's Automated Materiel Tracking System.