

IPv6 ready

An Office of Management and Budget memo requires federal agencies' network backbones to be ready to transmit both IPv4 and IPv6 traffic and support IPv4 and IPv6 addresses by June 30. Agencies must be able to demonstrate they can perform at least the following functions without compromising IPv4 capability or network security.

